

Crawl Under Blankets.

These chilly nights make one feel the shivers. One needs an extra Blanket at hand.

Fair Bros. & Co's Blankets

Are mighty comfortable, because they are soft and nice. They are the finest.

The Wilson Bill Doesn't Affect Quality,

But the price is down low enough to make this class of goods easily purchased.

Fair Bros. & Co. Invite You

To a thorough inspection of these Blankets and all the rest of their New Fall and Winter Stock.

BEAVER DAM RAILROAD TIME TABLE

WEST-BOUND.
No. 1—Arrives	7:40 a.m.
No. 2—Departs	8:00 a.m.
No. 3—Arrives	8:30 a.m.
No. 4—Departs	8:50 a.m.
No. 5—Arrives	9:20 a.m.
No. 6—Departs	9:40 a.m.
No. 7—Arrives	10:10 a.m.
No. 8—Departs	10:30 a.m.
No. 9—Arrives	11:00 a.m.
No. 10—Departs	11:20 a.m.
No. 11—Arrives	11:50 a.m.
No. 12—Departs	12:10 p.m.
No. 13—Arrives	12:40 p.m.
No. 14—Departs	1:00 p.m.
No. 15—Arrives	1:30 p.m.
No. 16—Departs	1:50 p.m.
No. 17—Arrives	2:20 p.m.
No. 18—Departs	2:40 p.m.
No. 19—Arrives	3:10 p.m.
No. 20—Departs	3:30 p.m.
No. 21—Arrives	4:00 p.m.
No. 22—Departs	4:20 p.m.
No. 23—Arrives	4:50 p.m.
No. 24—Departs	5:10 p.m.
No. 25—Arrives	5:40 p.m.
No. 26—Departs	6:00 p.m.
No. 27—Arrives	6:30 p.m.
No. 28—Departs	6:50 p.m.
No. 29—Arrives	7:20 p.m.
No. 30—Departs	7:40 p.m.
No. 31—Arrives	8:10 p.m.
No. 32—Departs	8:30 p.m.
No. 33—Arrives	9:00 p.m.
No. 34—Departs	9:20 p.m.
No. 35—Arrives	9:50 p.m.
No. 36—Departs	10:10 p.m.
No. 37—Arrives	10:40 p.m.
No. 38—Departs	11:00 p.m.
No. 39—Arrives	11:30 p.m.
No. 40—Departs	11:50 p.m.
No. 41—Arrives	12:20 a.m.
No. 42—Departs	12:40 a.m.
No. 43—Arrives	1:10 a.m.
No. 44—Departs	1:30 a.m.
No. 45—Arrives	2:00 a.m.
No. 46—Departs	2:20 a.m.
No. 47—Arrives	2:50 a.m.
No. 48—Departs	3:10 a.m.
No. 49—Arrives	3:40 a.m.
No. 50—Departs	4:00 a.m.
No. 51—Arrives	4:30 a.m.
No. 52—Departs	4:50 a.m.
No. 53—Arrives	5:20 a.m.
No. 54—Departs	5:40 a.m.
No. 55—Arrives	6:10 a.m.
No. 56—Departs	6:30 a.m.
No. 57—Arrives	7:00 a.m.
No. 58—Departs	7:20 a.m.
No. 59—Arrives	7:50 a.m.
No. 60—Departs	8:10 a.m.
No. 61—Arrives	8:40 a.m.
No. 62—Departs	9:00 a.m.
No. 63—Arrives	9:30 a.m.
No. 64—Departs	9:50 a.m.
No. 65—Arrives	10:20 a.m.
No. 66—Departs	10:40 a.m.
No. 67—Arrives	11:10 a.m.
No. 68—Departs	11:30 a.m.
No. 69—Arrives	12:00 p.m.
No. 70—Departs	12:20 p.m.
No. 71—Arrives	12:50 p.m.
No. 72—Departs	1:10 p.m.
No. 73—Arrives	1:40 p.m.
No. 74—Departs	2:00 p.m.
No. 75—Arrives	2:30 p.m.
No. 76—Departs	2:50 p.m.
No. 77—Arrives	3:20 p.m.
No. 78—Departs	3:40 p.m.
No. 79—Arrives	4:10 p.m.
No. 80—Departs	4:30 p.m.
No. 81—Arrives	5:00 p.m.
No. 82—Departs	5:20 p.m.
No. 83—Arrives	5:50 p.m.
No. 84—Departs	6:10 p.m.
No. 85—Arrives	6:40 p.m.
No. 86—Departs	7:00 p.m.
No. 87—Arrives	7:30 p.m.
No. 88—Departs	7:50 p.m.
No. 89—Arrives	8:20 p.m.
No. 90—Departs	8:40 p.m.
No. 91—Arrives	9:10 p.m.
No. 92—Departs	9:30 p.m.
No. 93—Arrives	10:00 p.m.
No. 94—Departs	10:20 p.m.
No. 95—Arrives	10:50 p.m.
No. 96—Departs	11:10 p.m.
No. 97—Arrives	11:40 p.m.
No. 98—Departs	12:00 a.m.
No. 99—Arrives	12:30 a.m.
No. 100—Departs	12:50 a.m.

Hartford Weekly Herald.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 10.

We are in the lead. CANNON & CO. Chinese at Fair Bros. & Co's.

Miss Mattie Bennett is quite sick. Side can't be at Fair Bros. & Co's.

We have always got what you want. CANNON & CO.

Don't fail to see our boots and shoes. CANNON & CO.

Visit Miss Sara Collins for Millinery goods. CANNON & CO.

We sell goods cheaper than the cheapest. CANNON & CO.

Another lot of hats and caps at Carson & Co's.

We have the biggest stock in town to select from. CANNON & CO.

T. O. Baker is the groceryman with Carson & Co's.

We have just received a large shipment of Cloaks. CANNON & CO.

Fur Capes are the thing. Fair Bros. & Co. have them.

We will pay the highest Cash prices for Hides and Fells. SCHAMBERG.

Newest, neatest and cheapest cloaks at Fair Bros. & Co's.

Ladies, when you come to town visit our cloak department. CANNON & CO.

Miss Anna Lewis takes pleasure in showing you her Hats. CANNON & CO.

Broadsheet, all shades for making caps at Fair Bros. & Co's.

For Sale—Twenty pairs and shoats. Call on Jas. J. McIlroy.

Men's shoes—full stock—every day. Shoe for $1 at Schamberg's.

Swiss Mink Capes—latest out—only at Fair Bros. & Co's.

New Hine novelties in all-wool dress goods at Fair Bros. & Co's.

Born, to the wife of Mr. G. B. Williams, on last Monday, the 5th, a boy.

Child and son the pretty, stylish Hays. They are at Miss A. B. Lewis's Co's.

New Millinery, all latest shapes, received this week at Fair Bros. & Co's.

Mr. O. M. Shultz, who has been quite sick for the past week, is better.

Any farmer can save money by buying his boots and shoes at Fair Bros. & Co's.

Indigo Hens, Oil Red, Silver Grey and all Fancy Piles, 5 cents at Fair Bros. & Co's.

For a shingle, shave or shampoo, call on H. C. Pace, the best barber in the River County.

If you need a cloak or overcoat, hat, or suit of clothing, or anything kept in a first-class house, see Carson & Co's.

Mr. W. E. Hendrix and Miss Nola Faught were married at the home of the bride's father, Mr. William Faught, last Saturday.

Mr. G. A. Holland has sold his farm near Cool Springs to Mr. G. W. Shultz, and will move to the Washington neighborhood.

Photographer A. D. Taylor can be found in his elegant photo art in Hartford each Saturday morning till 11 o'clock. If you want fine cabinet photos, call and see him.

Prof. Wm. Foster will add the names of Belsa and vicinity in the talent of the amount due the school. He will be at place next Friday night. Everybody invited.

This evening at 8 o'clock Mr. Charles Ellis will be baptized in Roush river, just below the water mill. Eld. H. Teel, of the Christian Church, will administer the ordinance.

Mr. R. D. Ringo will go to Sulphur Springs Saturday afternoon, where he will deliver an address upon the political issue. The people of that community are invited to be present.

The Commercial Hotel took care of four hundred and twenty guests during the last month besides the regular hotel business. See the Commercial in the best hotel in the River County. T. M. Lane, Prop.

Special meeting of the Hartford Commercial Club will be held at Brown Hotel's office next Friday night to send delegates to the Immigration Convention, as almost his entire possession went up in flames.

The residence of Mr. E. C. Sutton, about 5 miles from Hartford, on the Sulphur Springs road, was burned last week. No household goods of any consequence were saved. This leaves Mr. Sutton in quite a deplorable condition, as almost his entire possession went up in flames.

Mr. W. H. Moore, living near Sulphur Springs, was the victim of a disreputable accident last Saturday. In starting to go out a door, the stair to which had just been laid, she fell and broke her left arm just below the elbow. The fracture, though not so painful as it could be, is getting along as well as could be expected. Mr. Moore has many friends in Hartford who wish her a speedy recovery.

PERSONAL.

Cap. and Mrs. S. K. Cox visited in Owensboro last week.

Mr. C. M. Metcalf and wife, Miss Isabelle, are in Owensboro.

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Taylor returned from Louisville last night.

Henry Edwards and R. D. Walker attended the Owensboro Fair last week.

Mr. Edith Edwards, of New City, is the guest of her mother near Horton.

Mr. George H. Taylor, of Owensboro, is the guest of Mrs. Metcalf and family.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Reader visited relative friends last week.

Mr. J. N. Duke and wife, Miss Kate Thompson, attended the Owensboro Fair Friday.

Mr. Theodore McCreary and family, friends, and friends of Shawcross, Ill., were here last week in the future.

Mrs. Henry Thompson, McCreary, is expected here this week after several weeks' visit to Louisville and St. Louis, Mo.

Mr. G. H. Thompson and family, from London, returned from Louisville, accompanied by C. L. Carver and wife, of New York.

Miss Margaret and Conley, who have spent the summer in Hartford, the guests of Mr. Shandor, left for their home in Louisville Monday.

Dr. Fred Hale's Burialment.

The many friends of Dr. Fred Hale in the city and county, having learned of the death of his estimable wife which occurred at their home in Owensboro last Friday.

The Messenger of Friday says:

Mrs. Hale, the estimable wife of Rev. Fred D. Hale, the first pastor of the First Baptist church, died early yesterday morning of pneumonia. She had only been ill since Monday, having been confined to bed since Wednesday night upon a surgical operation to save life, but postponed it until death came as a relief to the suffering.

Other members of her family had died of the same trouble.

Miss Mary Ann, wife of Mr. R. A. Bell, who was born December 10, 1860, at Northport, Ark., educated at the Christian Female Seminary and married Oct. 10, 1880. She was one of those truly Christian women who devoted a life to be kindly felt and mortified, whose was religious education for his many virtues. Her husband died last week. The funeral was held at her home at Taylor Mission, where the body was laid to rest.

Senator J. C. S. Blackburn speaks here tomorrow.

REVEREND DATES.

Oct. 8, 1894. "The melancholy days, the saddest of the year" seem to have come. The leaves have made vegetation put on its autumnal hue. The tobacco is generally out, though some of it was hurried somewhat. Farmers are sowing wheat and making up sorghum.

Uncle John Barnes still remains in bed, with a little improvement. The little child of W. A. Hooker, after a long and serious illness, seems to be in a fair way to recover. Dr. McKinnis is out again. Hooker has asked and now cases in town or community.

Since our last writing Mrs. Lulu Brown, wife of Ed Brown and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Chinn, died at her home at Taylor Mission, of typhoid fever. This lady was well known and loved here when a girl and in her young womanhood, and her death sends a pang of regret to many friends here.

Rev. E. E. Pale filled his regular appointment last night. His friends are pleased with his return to this work, in fact, his return is highly satisfactory.

Quite a number of people attended the dedicatory services of the new church at West Providence yesterday. The good people of that neighborhood have done honor to themselves in the erection of such a nice church house, and their entertainment was royal. The balance due on the house was raised and the dedication was free of debt. It was the right thing. The audience, welcomed and entertained as they were yesterday, could not afford to go away without helping them out in the small matter. The dedicatory sermon was preached by Rev. Ellis Maddox, which was fitting. Bared in the immediate neighborhood, a number of the church there from childhood, it was the right thing for his people to call him back to dedicate their new house of worship. His effort was a good one. The audience listened to the boy friend of a few years ago with the greatest delight.

Mrs. Marilla Shackelford, wife of Rev. J. A. Shackelford, of Meridian, Texas, is visiting her father, Andrew J. Austin, and her sisters at home of fifteen years from her youthful home and friends.

Miss Clara Patterson, the famous abolitionist, is in town, and will give an entertainment to-night.

The candidates were with us on last Saturday and they seem to be quite a clever set of fellows. Quite a crowd was out to hear the speaking.

The "show" on Friday brought out an immense crowd, many of whom did not go in to the show, but the attendance was so good. The number of the proprietors seemed to be exceptionally good and gentlemanly.

Mr. George M. Rowe, formerly deputy sheriff of this county, but now of Kansas City, is visiting his friends in the Centertown and Liberty neighborhood. George is well known and will be heartily welcomed by his many friends.

REMARKS.

New Game Law.

Hunters should be in mind that the new law, which was enacted and killed until the 15th of November, the last Legislature extending the time from the 15th of October to November 15th, and it is now in force. From the first day of January until November 15th there is a penalty for killing or maiming a deer or having in possession any of these birds, after being caught or killed, from $5 to $25. Possession of a gun during that time is an evidence of guilt.

Teaching Meeting.

The Oxford Teachers' Association will meet at New Bethel Church the third Saturday in October, promptly at 9 o'clock.

PROGRAMME:

Welcomes address—J. C. Hoover, Beulah Academy, Dover, N. H. Welcome—Alice Bowman. Moral culture—J. L.

Elmore. How to secure punctual attendance—A. S. Bennett, J. M. Storer, and J. M. Storer.

Reading class work. Lesson: The first seventy-seven pages in "School Management" and one hundred and fifty pages in "The Teacher's Guide." Each teacher will be expected to prepare the lesson and be able to discuss intelligently the subject which may be assigned him.

J. L. ELMORE, Instructor.

ALICE BOWMAN, Secretary.

Dropped His Wad.

Mr. T. J. Smith, of this place, recovered his lost treasure:

Mr. J. M. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did not belong to him, he wanted to leave it with the Mayor for the rightful owner.

Hickman gave the man a receipt for the money and the man returned to Newburgh. Mr. T. J. Smith, of Hartford, called on the Mayor and recovered his lost cash.

Mr. McCalla, a workman of Newburgh, Ind., who had been attending the fair, was called to his duties at the corner of Main and Holt streets yesterday morning. He put his money in his pocket and immediately handed it to Mayor Hickman. He stated to the Mayor that he had to go home and as the money did

